20-year-old Parks & Playgrounds Commission to get list of duties

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission hit a snag Monday in trying to compose a list of rules and regulations.

After a brief discussion of their responsibilities, the commissioners decided they were not sure of their duties and were going to contact city officials for direction.

A recently passed city ordinance simply states the the commission will "manage and control parks, playgrounds, recreation-cultural centers, beaches, swimming pools and related facilities as designated by the city."

Commissioner Neil Favre believes the commission needs more specific directives regarding duties and responsibilities.

"I have tried several times in the past to get a more specific list but have not been able to get it," he said. Bay City Clerk Edward Favre said city council meeting minutes had been researched back to 1950 but no record of duties and responsibilities for the commission had been found.

However this week on closer inspection of the ordinance which created the commission, Favre discovered duties of the commission were outlined in House Bill 71, passed in the 1950 session of the State Legislature.

This legislative action states in addition to management and control of city parks, playgrounds, etc. the commission is to "provide wholesome and healthful recreation to all citizens."

It also includes directives for commissioners for the execution of their duties and lists items which they are authorized to act on.

"The apparent error is due to the omission of the duties outlined in the legislative action in the 1950 city ordinance which created the commission," Edward Favre said.

Bay Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. said basically he had no problem with the way the commission had been functioning.

"I had been looking to the commission to have independent management and control of all the recreational facilities and programs," he said.

"I see the reason for them being an independent commission is so they can exercise independent judgment on how to conduct the activities," Frankiewicz added.

One problem has been the lack of written guidelines on management control and this is an area the city and commission will have to work together to correct, he added.

"Having these written guidelines will strengthen the commission and the programs they run," Frankiewicz.

City officials, businessmen to discuss tax increase

A public meeting between the Bay St. Louis city officials and area businessmen will be 7:30 p.m. Thursday night at the City-County Library on US-90.

The meeting is planned to help explain the city's tax levy to business owners who recently received an increase in their property taxes.

Why taxes went up, where taxes are going and what Bay St. Louis residents get for their tax dollars are among the topics to be discussed at the meeting.

New jail to open for public tours

BY DENA BISNETTE
The public will be allowed to tour the new Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility before prisoners are moved into the upstairs section.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the new building is expected to open in late February if there are no weather-related delays in paving access ways and parking lots.

Peterson said the other work still not completed includes painting and installation of an electronic surveillance system.

The sheriff said he is planning to allow the public to tour the jail during a two-week transition period that will be used primarily to familiarize his staff with the new facility.

"We will need some training for the electronics and we want the staff to know the surroundings before we actually move the inmates," he said.

"We will probably begin by moving the administrative section, then communications, and move the jailers and the inmates last."

"We want the public to see what they're getting. The jail belongs to the people of the county and I'm just fortunate enough to be able to run it for them," Peterson commented.

The funds paying for the jail were obtained through a $2.5 million bond issue.

Peterson said he hopes to make the operation of the new facility self-sufficient.

One way he plans to maintain self-sufficiency is to generate income for the jail by housing about 10 federal prisoners.

"The government pays $46 per day for housing a federal prisoner," he said. "If we take 10 of them, and we will have the room in the new jail, that will be $460 per day or $167,000 per year."

In the past, some state prisoners have been housed by the county but Peterson said he does not plan to keep many of them in the new facility. The state pays $15 per day.

He said some minimum security state prisoners who qualify as trustys may be used to help maintain the new facility.

"I know some people won't like the idea of keeping federal prisoners, but the way the economy is right now and the way our budget is, we need to make the jail self-sufficient," Peterson said.

He said a second move toward self-sufficiency may be the eventual establishment of a county work farm where prisoners will grow much of the food for the jail.

The county purchased extra land with that intent several months ago when the site for the central county maintenance barn on Hwy. 43 was bought.

Peterson said that the farm would probably operate in the same fashion as the one in Harrison County, but on a smaller scale.

The jail operation will probably be overseen by a jail administrator or warden, the sheriff added.

He said he is currently negotiating with the board of supervisors about hiring a warden and some additional jailers, and already has an employee certified as a jail administrator by the National Sheriff's Association and National Institute of Corrections.

He said that the certified employee and members of the Harrison County Jail staff will assist with the training of the present jail staff and any new jailers hired.

"Harrison County's operation is a lot larger and a lot more sophisticated, but Sheriff Larkin Smith and his staff have helped us tremendously with this project,"

Port and Harbor Commission still seeking new director

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is readvertising for applications for the position of executive director.

The commission has taken no action on the 62 applications received in November for the position.

Applicants were sought following the October announcement of Director James DeBlanc's anticipated Jan. 15 retirement.

The new advertisement for applications advises only applicants with "a deep background in economic industrial development training and experience" need apply.

DeBlanc reported Monday he would continue in the position until after the new director was employed.

"I will stay as long as necessary and the board requests me to stay," he said.

"I do not want the commission to have to rush their decision for a new director and possibly not hire the right person for the job," DeBlanc added.

With the lack of deadline pressure and thorough screening of the applicants, the commission will be better able to select the best person for the job, he said.

The new advertisement requests that application be received at the commission office on or before Jan. 29.

DeBlanc said it was worded that way to allow applications to be accepted following the date while the commission is still in the selection process.

Also at Monday's meeting the board elected the following officers: Ronald Artigues, president; Oliver Frierson, vice president; David N. McDonald, treasurer; and Harry C. Baxter, secretary.

Awards, park rededication planned for King's birthday

BY DENA BISNETTE
Local observations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday will include awards presentations at the eighth annual Mother of the Year Supper Theatre and rededication of a Waveland park.

The supper theatre is an annual event hosted by Hancock County Branch, National Association for Advancement of Colored People as a memorial to King.

The event begins at 7 p.m. Saturday at Gulfside Methodist Assembly and features selection of Mother of the Year.

James Figgs of Marks, a member of the state board of directors for NAACP, will serve as guest speaker.

Figgs is a lifelong member of the NAACP and hosts a half-hour radio talk show, "NAACP Speak Out Sunday," which airs at 5 p.m. on station WQMA.

He was selected as an Outstanding Young Man of America in 1961 and was a 1962 recipient of the Mississippi Civil Rights Award.

Additional speakers will include Dr. Warren Booker of Gulfside Methodist Assembly, Fr. Thaddeus Doucree of St. Augustine Retreat Center and Rev. Arthur Lewis of Valena G. Jones Methodist Church.

The winner of the Mother of the Year competition will be crowned by last year's winner, Gloria Payne.

Other awards to be presented include the Ethel Weaver Award for volunteer work and community service. The award is named in memory of the late Ethel Weaver.

The 1987 Mother of the Year will also present a Community Service Award. Entertainment will include singing by Phillip Williams, Jessie Hathorn and Voices of Gulfside and dancing by Angellique Bell.

Alfriza Acker will serve as organist.

Also included will be an audio-rededicated is presently known as Herlihy Street Park and will be renamed Martin Luther King Jr. Park.

The park rededication will begin at 1 p.m. and will be preceded by a march from Mount Chapel Baptist Church down Herlihy Street to the park gate, according to Clarence Harris, organizer of the event.

The march itself will begin at about 12:30 p.m. with the public invited to participate.

Speakers will include Smith, Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. and several local ministers, Harris said.

Some public offices will be closed Monday in observance of the holiday, including all post offices, Waveland City Hall, and Hancock County Courthouse, Courthouse Annex and other county offices.

Commodity distribution date listed

USDA commodities will be distributed Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 9:30 a.m. at the American Legion Hall on Coleman Avenue in Waveland.

"Please bring your voucher already signed and dated by you to the distribution site," said Darlene Peterson, coordinator.

"If you cannot come you may send your voucher with someone else provided you have signed the front and that you write in the name of the person who is picking up for you on the back, and sign your name again on the back. No voucher will be honored that is not signed. If someone is picking up for you it must be signed twice."

All vouchers for food stamp recipients are being given out with their food stamps this month. Anyone who is not on Food stamps may apply on Jan. 20 at the Food Stamp Office and on Jan. 21 at the distribution site.

"If you have any questions, you may call 467-7713, Food Stamp Office," Peterson noted.

Bay-Waveland trustees to review school needs

BY DENA BISNETTE
 The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board of Trustees has called a special meeting Monday, Jan. 19 to discuss district facility needs.

The meeting, called by Board President Betty Diboll at the recommendation of Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, will begin at 7 p.m. in the boardroom at Bay Senior High School.

Diboll said the discussion on the types and numbers of facilities needed by the district is expected to be lengthy and is therefore the only topic on the special meeting agenda.

The superintendent said a report on the matter has been compiled in connection with the district's intent to implement some type of long-range building program to alleviate overcrowding problems in four schools and one satellite center.

Reports presented to the board earlier this year by administrators from North Bay Elementary, Bay Junior High, Waveland Elementary and Bay Senior High indicate that all four schools are operating at full capacity or with student populations higher than those the buildings were designed to accommodate.

Also operating at full capacity is St. Rose de Lima Fifth Grade Center, where a class had to be divided and an extra teacher hired in order to meet State Department of Education standards limiting the number of students in a single class.

Telephone rate reduction sought by Ed Pittman

Attorney General Ed Pittman has asked the Public Service Commission (PSC), to investigate the current operating expenses of South Central Bell in hopes of getting customer rates reduced.

Recent income tax changes, coupled with reductions in the number of employees and lower interest rates on debts, may result in substantial savings for the company which should be passed on to ratepayers, Pittman said.

A petition was filed recently with the PSC seeking the investigation. The petition said the utility rate expert used by the attorney general in state and federal litigation has analyzed changes in the corporate expenses of the telephone company. His calculations indicate the possibility of an early and timely rate reduction, Pittman said.

The attorney general said he was confident South Central Bell would have eventually considered all these factors on its own in adjusting rates. His request to the PSC was made to insure that any appropriate reduction be made as soon as possible.

Pittman is urging all utility companies operating in Mississippi to make their own investigations to see if reductions in expenses could result in a benefit to their customers as well as to the companies.

Mississippi artists named in collection

The Mississippi Artists Collection is a new project originated by the Mississippi Museum of Art several months ago to assemble a collection of slides representing the works of Mississippi artists.

This slide collection, maintained by the Museum, may be used by Mississippi businesses and corporations who wish to form or broaden their corporate art collections with works by Mississippi artists.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. recently selected and purchased works by 28 Mississippi artists to go in their new offices, located in One Jackson Place.

Artists whose works were selected include John McDonald of Bay St. Louis.

Crime Lab post remains open

JACKSON - The recent illness of James L. Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety, has delayed the naming of a person to fill the director's position at the Mississippi Crime Laboratory.

Roberts became ill during the holidays, had emergency surgery to remove a benign fistula on Tuesday, Dec. 30, and was released from the hospital Monday, Jan. 5. He will possibly return to work by mid-January, according to his doctor.

In July, Roberts appointed a nine-member search committee to assist in procedures associated with drafting advertisements announcing the position, interviewing applicants, making recommendations regarding naming a director, and analyzing the nature, function, and purpose of the crime lab.

Advertisements were placed in selected newspapers and forensic science publications resulting in 16 persons applying for the director's position.

Wilsey Kelly, assistant crime lab director since 1977, has been acting director since June 30, 1986, when director Donald D. Ready retired from state service.

Roberts said it had been his intent to have appointed a director by Jan. 1, 1987.

"I appreciate the patience of those who applied and I apologize for the delay because of my illness," he said.

Two Bay men arrested in separate incidents

Pedro Williams, 31, of Bay St. Louis was arrested and charged with burglary of Fahey's Drugstore Saturday night.

Williams set off silent burglary alarms while allegedly breaking into the drug store through the back wall, according to Bay Police Chief Ray Murphy.

Three Bay police officers surrounded the building to prevent the escape of a man noticed in the store while officers from the Waveland Police Department and Hancock County Sheriff's Department arrived to assist, Murphy said.

"When the building was surrounded, officers began a building search," he added.

Williams was allegedly found in the attic of the store.

He is currently being held in the Hancock County Jail under a $5,000 bond.

Also arrested this week was Charles E. Ncaise, 21, of 306 Bouslog St., Bay St. Louis.

Ncaise was charged Monday with possession of one pound of marijuana with the intent to distribute.

Murphy said Ncaise was arrested following an investigation which began when the police department had received information Ncaise was allegedly selling marijuana.

Ncaise was released from the Hancock County Jail under a $2,000 bond.

Bay school district to buy new phones

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District is changing from a residential-type rotary telephone system to a push-button, program-mable system.

The school board voted Monday to lease-purchase an A.T. & T. Merlin system for the administrative section of Bay Senior High School and for North Bay and Waveland elementary schools.

Bay Junior High School will not be included because a new system was installed there last year.

The system will replace residential-type rotary phones currently used at the schools and will provide Waveland Elementary School, which presently has only one line, with a second line.

The schools will retain a rotary type phone to be used in case of power failure, Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said.

The equipment for the new telephone system will be purchased at state contract price of $13,952 over a period of five years, District Business Manager Garland Cuevas said. In other business Monday, the board:

—Hired Marcia Crall as a fifth grade teacher and Shauna Saulters as a sixth grade science teacher;

—Discussed refinancing the district's short-term loan indebtedness in order to obtain a more favorable interest rate;

—Approved a travel request for Cuevas and two assistants who will attend a Mississippi Association of School Business Officials seminar in Jackson Jan. 20-22;

—Agreed to move the March board meeting to March 18 because the regular meeting date falls within spring holidays, which will be March 2 through March 13; and —Went into executive session to discuss personnel but took no action.

The next board meeting will be a special meeting on Jan. 19, called by Board President Betty Diboll for discussion of the district's facility needs. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the boardroom at Bay Senior High.

$578 million

Poultry top income producer for first time

MISSISSIPPI STATE—The poultry industry, for years one of Mississippi agriculture's best-kept secrets, became the state's leading farm income producer in 1986 for the first time.

The value of poultry and eggs in Mississippi reached a record $578 million in 1986. The 1986 value is up from $499 million in 1985, said Dr. Bob Williams, head of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Economics Department.

Poultry and eggs moved past cotton last year as the state's most valuable commodity. Cotton had held that position for each of the past five years.

Although poultry for several years has been one of the state's leading agricultural industries, 1986 marked the first time the industry was the state's top income producer.

The poultry industry's value of $578 million in 1986 compares with a total value of $2.55 billion for all agricultural commodities produced in the state in 1986. The value of all agricultural commodities is down $337 million from 1985.

Williams said higher egg and broiler prices plus moderating feed costs helped make 1986 a good year for poultry producers with 1987 expected to hold more of the same.

"The outlook for poultry and eggs in 1987 is bright," Williams said. "Favorable product prices and continued moderating feed costs should boost the industry."

Broiler production accounted for about 82 percent of the farm value of poultry in 1986, according to Dr. Robert Haynes, head of the Extension and Mississippi State University Poultry Science departments.

Haynes said Mississippi poultry farmers produced 335 million broilers and 716 million eggs for market in 1986. A high percentage of the state's poultry products are exported to other states.

"Mississippi is fifth in the United States in broiler production and is a leader in egg production," Haynes said.

Williams said while total 1986 agricultural income in Mississippi was down almost 50 percent from 1985, better times could be ahead for the state's farmers this year.

"More normal crop yields, possibly lower farm production costs and the 1987 farm program should be positive for many farmers in Mississippi in 1987," Williams said.

Quotables by CUEVAS

A big topic of discussion in Mississippi since Friday afternoon has been the victory for the House of Representatives 'rebel' lawmakers.

The dilution of the speaker of the House's control over the body was a goal sought by an original group of 26 lawmakers three years ago.

A lot of press has been given to the battle by the 'rebels', and many of the oldtimers thought the group was just making a little smoke and not a fire.

The 75-45 vote favoring rule changes in the House means the selection of many committee heads in the government group will not be by the speaker.

The old system may have worked in years gone by, but times have now changed, and the rules have to change with times.

It will be interesting to see what will happen this session of the Legislature in reference to our State Constitution.

Many studies have been made in the past decades in reference to the State's Constitution, and some efforts have been made to have the 1890 documents rewritten.

Weekly Summary
from
Mississippi House of Representatives

By Andrew Reese
House Information Officer

JACKSON—Budget problems and highways were among the big issues as the 1987 legislative session got off to a relatively brisk start last week.

There was limited floor action in the Mississippi House of Representatives during the initial week of the 90-day session. But numerous committee meetings were held as legislators began the painstaking task of digging through the massive stack of bills awaiting consideration.

There is general agreement that one of the toughest jobs facing the 1987 session will be to find a way to deal with the state's tight money situation.

A proposed $1.547 billion general fund budget has been recommended by the Joint Legislative Budget Committee for the coming year.

While this represents an increase of $41 million over the present fiscal year, it still is substantially less than the funding sought by most agencies and departments.

Copies of the official budget recommendations were placed on the desks of all legislators shortly before the opening gavels were rapped Jan. 6 in the House and Senate.

The 665-page volume includes the detailed budget proposals submitted by the Legislative Budget Committee and the Governor's Office.

A special briefing on the state's financial outlook was given later to a joint House-Senate session by State Economist Ed Ranck and other fiscal specialists.

MONTH

The state's highway system was the chief topic at a joint meeting last week of the Transportation Committee and Ways and Means Committee. These are the two committees assigned to study the bill which, if enacted, would provide four four-lane of 1,059 miles of highway throughout the state.

The $1.5 billion program would be financed under the proposal by an increase of 5 cents per gallon in state fuel taxes.

The highways legislation was prepared following a series of meetings around the state last year on highway needs and how to deal with them. The chairmen of both study committees indicated they hoped to move quickly on the measure. A public hearing was planned for Tuesday (Jan. 13) this week on the bill.

The House Education Committee began work last week with a briefing by officials from the State Education Department on proposed legislation for the coming year. Early meetings also were called by a number of other committees including Appropriations, Constitution, County Affairs, Fees and Salaries, Public Utilities, and Penitentiary.

A written motion proposing a number of House rule changes was filed on the first day of the session, setting the stage for consideration of these and other proposals dealing with rules as the first week drew to an end last Friday. And a resolution was adopted inviting the governor to appear before a joint session this week to present his 1987 proposals.

Other highlights of the opening week included approval of an appropriation bill to defray legislative expenses, introduction of more than 350 bills and resolutions, and a "first" for the Mississippi House.

Opening prayer of the session was given by the Rev. Ann Stevenson of St. James Episcopal Church in Jackson, marking the first time in the memory of lawmakers a woman had given the prayer to open the session.

Legislative Update

By Ellen Ann Fentress

Tremors are still shaking the Capitol following last week's historic win by House rebels in reducing the power of House Speaker Buddie Newman and the Old Guard establishment.

The rebels won their fight 75-45 with three votes to spare in their push to democratize House procedures. Reforms call for the election of a House speaker pro tem and an elected Management Committee within the next week.

The Management Committee, which controls the House staff and allocates building space, is now appointed by Newman.

The House speaker also loses appointment powers over the Rules Committee. The change, approved last week calls for most members of the committee, which controls the order bills are considered, to be elected by the membership. That change would go into effect in 1988.

A limited seniority system also would go into effect in 1988, doling out appointments to both the prestigious Appropriations Committee and the Ways and Means Committee on the basis of seniority within the state's five congressional districts. Three additional members are to be chosen by the speaker.

The reforms also would put a two-term limit on future House speakers. Onlookers packed the House visitors' galleries on Friday to witness the history-making fight that lasted about three tense hours.

The reform legislation calls for a speaker pro tem to be elected by Wednesday, Jan. 14, and members of the Management Committee by Jan. 19.

The House vote was the dramatic climax of the opening week of the 1987 session, but other business went on as well.

The Senate voted for a second time to reduce the size of the Legislature. The upper chamber voted to shrink the number of state legislators last year, but the proposal was killed in the House.

The Senate vote last week was 33-13 to cut the size of both chambers. The proposal calls for cutting the Senate from 52 to 42 members and the House from 122 to 84 members.

The House stuck by Gov. Bill Allain's 1986 veto of a bill to release bar owners from civil liability should an intoxicated customer cause an injury. The 74-41 vote to override fell short of the 77-vote margin necessary.

An expected push for a major highway program also began in the session's opening days, with the Senate Finance Committee approving a 5-cent-per-gallon fuel tax to finance a 12-year construction program. The bill still faces action by the Senate Highways Committee before it would go before the entire Senate.

House committees are considering a similar bill that would finance 1,059 miles of new four-lane highway by 1999.

—Motion to amend House rules 1984-1988

This motion diffuses the power of the House speaker by setting up a No. 2 House post of speaker pro tem and by stripping the speaker's power to name the membership of the Rules Committee and House Management Committee.

Those committees would be elected entirely by the House membership, except for a speaker's appointee to the Rules Committee. The package of reforms also limits a House speaker to two terms in office and sets up a limited seniority system that would distribute the most sought-after committee assignments on the basis of experience and statewide geographical distribution.

Phillips, Nay; Holston, Yea.

—To override HB 916

A vote to override would release bar owners or employees from civil liability from injuries caused by intoxicated customers. Gov. Bill Allain had vetoed the bill in the 1986 session.

Phillips, Yea; Holston, Nay.

—SB 2632

This bill reduces the number of legislators from 52 to 42 senators and from 122 to 84 House members.

Gene Taylor, Yea; Martin Smith, Yea.

Christmas Seals campaign successful

The widespread and generous support given to the 1986 Christmas Seal campaign is a "true community project," said Mrs. Elda Duke of Waveland, chairman of the Hancock County Chapter, Mississippi Lung Association.

Contributions are still being received and are vitally needed to support year-round Christmas Seal programs of "life and breath." You are urged to send your Christmas Seal gift, if you have not already done so, and help our local lung chapter and the Mississippi Lung Association fight lung diseases.

"Your Hancock County Lung Chapter is one of 86 county and bi-county lung chapters in Mississippi. Each chapter conducts education, patient service and other programs to bring a unified effort against emphysema, asthma, lung cancer, chronic bronchitis, tuberculosis, other lung diseases and all lung health hazards," Duke said.

"MLA programs are designed to prevent and control lung diseases, to assist those who suffer with lung problems and to further medical education and research."

"We thank citizens of Hancock County for your concern and support. Your contribution enables the Mississippi Christmas Seal voluntary health organization to continue and expand vital services and programs. Lung health must never be taken for granted."

Contributions may still be sent to Christmas Seals, Post Office Box 9965, Jackson, Ms 39206. Each gift is credited to the local chapter and remains in Mississippi to serve Mississippians of all ages.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—In the Mississippi House where a system of a powerful speakership was built by Walter Sillers and perpetuated by Buddie Newman, a democratic coup wiped it out last Friday.

Amazingly, a long-awaited revolt against Newman and his power was consummated in a remarkably dignified manner, without recriminations and personal attacks, which could well have surfaced because of the pentup emotions carried by the House "rebels."

For example, Rep. Cecil Simmons of Maben, who acted as the spokesman for the House reformers no doubt carried great hurt from the way he was treated by Newman because he supported the abortive 1984 fight by 26 House members for rules changes to reduce the speaker's power.

Simmons, a veteran of 16 years in the House, holder of a doctorate from Mississippi State University, was stripped of all meaningful committee assignments and became the most senior member not to head any committee.

But Simmons was masterful in the art of understatement as he handled the package of rules changes, warding off all attempts to chop it into pieces of weaken any of its parts, doing it without a tinge of bitterness.

In the almost 40 years this writer has closely observed the operations of the Mississippi Legislature, nothing has been more personally satisfying than the adoption of the democratic rules reforms last Friday.

Most of the changes were correcting flaws in the legislative system which this writer had pointed out for a number of years. All were barriers to a more democratic operation of the House, and, in the main, obstacles to mature consideration of progressive legislation.

Inevitable, the emergency of a more progressive, independent group of lawmakers meant that these barriers would be knocked down.

Regrettably, one sour note was heard during the debate over the rules changes, in the form of a personal attack upon this writer by Rep. James Price of Quitman who alleged that the rules reformers were being "stampeded" by irresponsible journalists.

Purporting to speak as an authority on the historic 1974 coup when Newman seized power as speaker pro tempore over the objections of the mortally ill speaker John Junkin, Price made it appear in his remarks on the floor that the 1974 episode was a happy little transition which this writer deliberately misrepresented in a Dec. 14 column.

The facts stated in the December column were the same as I have written several times before in years past, based on very careful observation and investigation of what took place behind the scenes back in 1974. I was there and Price wasn't, and he doesn't know what he is talking about.

Obviously Newman and some of his loyalists are attempting now to revise the history of that episode. They are trying to make it out as something other than the raw power play that Newman shrewdly pulled off to keep a hated rival then Rep. George Payne Cossar of Charleston, from being picked by Junkin.

In his own way, Newman and speaker became a more adroit wielder of power than the courtly Sillers. Sillers operated as chief spokesman for states rights and racial segregation at a time when both were in vogue. Newman built his power in a time when seats in the House were redistributed by population and blacks began to occupy some of the House seats.

Perhaps the peak of Newman's power came in the administration of Cliff Finch, when the flamboyant, erratic governor tried to do battle with the legislative monolith in the House.

Finch was put to rout by Newman's forces and the speaker clearly became the more powerful man in state government.

Then came William Winter, and his drive for a better public education system, something Newman disliked and once in the 60s sought to dismantle.

While posing as a friend of Winter because of the latter's legislative background, Newman rallied his troops in 1981 and 1982 to block Winter's plan for public kindergartens, funded by increasing the state's oil and gas severance tax.

But Newman overplayed his hand in his famous gaveling the House into adjournment without a vote on a deadline day which killed the kindergarten bill in the 1982 regular session.

That one act by Newman triggered something which probably did not later pass the kindergarten program and launch the demise of Newman than anything: the ABC 20/20 show which focused national attention upon the arrogant use of power by the Mississippi House speaker to the detriment of children.

When a new bunch of bright, independent minded House members was elected to the lower chamber in 1983 with the help of an anti-Newman organization called Mississippi First, it was obvious Newman and his old guard forces were in for trouble at the 1984 sessions.

When Newman beat back the rebel attempt at the opening of the 1984 session to reform House rules and reduce the speaker's personal power in Newman reacted predictably and punished those who voted for the reforms.

In the end, Newman's inability to understand, or accept the reality that not only Mississippi, but his own House, is no longer a closed society run by a powerful few brought about his downfall.

Grand Jury to tour both jails

BY DENA BISNETTE

Members of the January 1987 Hancock County Grand Jury will tour both county correctional facilities Friday.

According to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, the Grand Jury is scheduled to tour the existing jail as well as the new Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility, which is expected to be completed in late February.

The construction of a new jail had been repeatedly recommended by past Grand Juries whose members had toured the existing jail.

Peterson said he plans to show the Grand Jury as much of the new facility as possible, explaining that some sections may not be accessible because painting is being completed.

The Grand Jury was selected Monday and includes Don K. Lee, Raymond R. Bermond, Ruth M. Mitchell, Gladys P. Jacobs, Harold C. Colwell, Marcus D. Ladner, Chris C. LaGarde, Ingrid H. Brink, John E. Ducote and Martin J. Homer III.

Also included are William V. Baudoin, Gloria A. Neale, Eddie M. Ladner, John T. McCaleb, Byron P. Favre, William S. Bounds, Kathleen S. Lemoine, James E. Garside, William J. Bourgeois Jr. and Charleston L. Lambert.

RONALD PETERSON

Jail Tours.....

Peterson said.

The sheriff said that some of the problems the new facility is expected to help solve include filing of lawsuits by former inmates complaining about jail conditions.

"We do have some problems meeting federal requirements in the present facility," he explained. The existing jail was built in 1937 for 12 to 15 inmates but has been used for as many as 50 at times.

He expects jail escapes and behavior problems among prisoners, such as fighting, to be reduced as well.

"It's going to be a lot safer for our staff and for the public," Peterson added.

Have a problem with your major appliance? Do "the four step!"

CHICAGO—If your dishwasher just stopped washing or your oven refuses, it's time to do "THE FOUR STEP!"

No, this isn't a new dance—it's the logical and common sense thing to do when one of your appliances stops working.

STEP ONE—Stop everything and read the use and care booklet. Yes, admit it, that's the book you've been avoiding since the day you bought the appliance! While you're doing that, also check the plug and fuses, pilots and controls. You just may find the answer to your problem.

If not, go to STEP TWO. Call the local dealer where you bought the appliance or a reputable local service agency, trained and equipped to handle appliance service problems.

If you still have your problem, it's time for STEP THREE. Contact the manufacturer or brand-name retailer of your appliance. You should find the address and phone number in the use and care booklet. Most companies now have 800 numbers, so the call is free.

If your problem persists, then go to STEP FOUR. Write MACAP—that's the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel.

MACAP has been serving consumers for over 16 years. The Panel receives complaints like yours that can't be resolved by the local service agency or dealer or manufacturer. The Panel will immediately route your complaint to the right official in the company. If the company refuses to do anything or you don't like their offer, the Panel will then review your complaint in detail.

If they feel you have a legitimate complaint, they will recommend the company take a specific action to resolve your problem. If they feel you don't have a legitimate complaint or that you can't substantiate a problem, they'll let you know.

This is important! When you write MACAP, be sure to include:

* your name, address and daytime phone number.

* the type of appliance, brand, model and serial number.

* the purchase date and price of your appliance.

* the name, address and phone number of your local dealer or service agency.

* copies of all letters you have written or received about your complaint.

* copies of all service receipts (including those within warranty where you did not pay for service), and

* a clear description of your problem and what you think is a reasonable and fair solution.

Take heart! MACAP has resolved 80 percent of the complaints it has reviewed during the past 16 years. And appliance companies have agreed with the Panel's recommendations in over 90 percent of the cases.

One last important bit of information—MACAP only handles complaints about clothes washers and dryers, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, food waste disposers, freezers, microwave ovens, ranges/ovens, refrigerators, room air conditioners, trash compactors and water heaters.

You can write to MACAP at 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, IL 60606. Be sure to ask for a free brochure that tells you how to resolve your appliance problem and use MACAP.

Candidates to meet new requirements

BY DENA BISNETTE

Candidates in some races included in this year's county and state elections will have to meet new requirements in qualifying for office.

According to Hancock County Election Commission Secretary Charles Gottschalk, the changes are the result of new legislation and deal mostly with the educational level of the candidates.

In addition, the candidates will have to fill out a new qualifying form and new procedures for reporting campaign finances, the secretary said.

Only one candidate, Donovan Carl Cuevas, has qualified so far under the new statutes. Cuevas plans to run for Justice Court Judge in the county's east district, Gottschalk said Tuesday.

Previously, most of the county offices required residency in the county or district where the candidate planned to run or that he be a qualified elector.

The only requirement for chancery clerk, circuit clerk and tax assessor-collector remains that the candidate be a qualified elector of the county in which he seeks election, according to Article XII of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890.

Under Section 19-25-3, A candidate for sheriff may not be a defaulter to any state, county, municipality or the federal government and must be a qualified elector who does not deny the existence of a supreme being.

Candidates for county attorney, county superintendent of education and county surveyor must all be qualified voters but must also possess other qualifications.

The county attorney candidates must be licensed and practicing attorneys, the surveyor candidates must be registered land surveyors and the school superintendent candidates must hold valid class AA administrators' certificates from the State Department of Education and may not have less than four years of classroom or administrative experience.

Candidates for county coroner must presently be a qualified elector but has no other requirements to meet.

According to a bulletin from Secretary of State Dick Molpus, new requirement have not yet been pre-cleared by the U.S. Department of Justice Voting Rights Act Division.

Those requirements would not apply to any coroner holding office on July 1, 1988 and running for reelection as long as that coroner maintains continuous active service.

If the new requirements are pre-cleared, coroner candidates would have to be at least 21 years old and possess a high school diploma or equivalent.

District races, including supervisor, require the candidate to be a qualified voter and a resident of the district in which he runs.

In addition, a Justice Court judge candidate must have maintained that residence for two years, must possess a high school diploma or equivalency and must complete a required training course within six months of taking office.

A constable must be a qualified elector and is required to meet no other requirements.

Most of the requirements for state offices date back to the Mississippi Constitution of 1890, although some are also governed by sections of the Mississippi Code of 1972.

Candidates for both governor and lieutenant governor must have been a resident of the United States at least 20 years and of the state for at least five years, must be at least 30 years old and be qualified voters.

A secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer or state insurance commissioner candidate must be at least 25 years old, a qualified elector and a citizen of the state for five years.

A candidate for state attorney general must be both a practicing attorney and a resident of the state for five years, in addition to being a qualified elector and at least 26 years old.

There are no age or residency requirements other than those for qualified voters for commissioner of agriculture, but a candidate must have a general knowledge of agriculture, mining, manufacturing, statistics and general industries and must be an experienced practical agriculturalist.

A Public Service Commission and State Highway Commission candidate must be at least 25 and a resident of the Supreme Court District in which he seeks to be elected.

A district attorney must be a practicing attorney before the Supreme Court of Mississippi for at least two years as well as being a qualified elector in the district he seeks to represent.

Candidates for state senator or state representative must actually live in the districts they seek to represent for at least two years and of Mississippi for four years. Senate candidates must be at least 25 and House of Representatives candidates must be 21.

The first primary is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 4 with a second primary set for Aug. 25 if needed. The general election will be Nov. 3.

The hours for the polls to be open have been extended this year and will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for all elections.

All state officials and all county officials other than school board members and election commissioners will be elected this year.

Qualifying deadlines have been changed in order that candidates in a party primary and independent candidates will have the same deadline.

The qualifying deadline for this year is Friday, June 5.

Voters must register by July 3 for the primaries and Oct. 2 for the general election. The deadlines actually fall on the following Sundays but the registrar's offices at the Bay St. Louis and Waveland city halls and the Hancock County Courthouse are not open on weekends.

Mississippi livestock auction operators suspended, ordered to pay

WASHINGTON—George County Stockyard, Inc., at Lucedale, and its owner, M.H. Pitts, have been suspended from doing business starting Jan. 9 and ordered to pay a $4,000 civil penalty, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official said.

The auction market, which holds Thursday sales, draws trade from southeast Mississippi and southwest Alabama.

B.H. (Bill) Jones, head of USDA's

Packers and Stockyards Administration, said Pitts' livestock operations were suspended for 28 days and thereafter until shortages in the market's custodial account have been corrected.

The suspension order will be vacated after Pitts serves the 28-day suspension if the custodial account shortages have been corrected, Jones said.

USDA Judicial Officer Donald A.

Campbell, ruling on appeal, issued the order based on evidence taken at a hearing June 18, 1986, at Mobile.

Pitts was also ordered to cease and desist from making slow payment for livestock purchased through his dealer account and from doing business without an adequate bond.

The cease and desist order, similar to a permanent injunction, was issued to insure future compliance with the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act.

The P&S Act is an antitrust, fair trade practice and payment protection law. It is designed to maintain integrity in the marketing of livestock, poultry and meat, and economic law and order in the marketplace.

Crime Commission elects Coast Electric executive

Four Gulf Coast business executives were elected directors of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission at the annual business meeting on Jan. 6.

MCCCC President Gordon Burton said the four are John McFarland of Gulf Publishing Company, Gulfport; Robert Occhi of Coast Electric Power Association, Bay St. Louis; Richard Matheny of Merchants Bank, Gulfport, and Walter Williams of Mississippi Power Company, Gulfport.

"These men bring to the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission distinguished backgrounds of civic and professional service, and a keen perception of current affairs which will assist greatly in achieving the objectives of the commission," Burton said.

Burton, of Long Beach, was elected to a second term as President of MCCCC; Brenda Herman, Gulfport, Vice President; Alicia Ellis, Pass Christian, secretary; and John E. Montgomery, Gulfport, Treasurer.

MCCCC Executive Director Jerry Medford outlined programs for 1987, including the annual Law Enforcement Appreciation Breakfast in May, continuation of the "Meology" sixth-grade drug education program, continuing support of Crimestoppers and Toughlove programs, and developing seminars on "Drug-free Workplace," on Check Fraud and Forgery, and on Shoplifting, in cooperation with law enforcement agencies and business groups.

Also to be emphasized in 1987 is combating of Child Abuse in the Gulf Coast area, Medford said. This offense seems to be increasing, and not all incidents are reported to the authorities, Medford said.

Publicity regarding the laws on child abuse, and seminars on recognition of the offense are planned in cooperation with the medical community and criminal justice agencies concerned.

The Mississippi Coast Crime Commission is a non-profit corporation of concerned citizens whose sole purpose is to improve their community and criminal justice system. It is funded exclusively through voluntary dues paid by members.

Red-hot Rocks stop d'Iberville

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws defeated the d'Iberville Warriors 44-36 in impressive fashion in a variety basketball contest played Tuesday evening in the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum preceding the Mississippi Jets-Tampa Bay Thrillers game.

Coach Chuck Genin's Rockchaws are now 10-5, riding a hot streak that includes winning nine out of their last ten outings.

It was easily the largest crowd of the season to see the Rocks play, as attendance figures at the Jets game numbered more than 2,300 people.

"Things that we've taught them all year—defense and rebounding—are now being well executed. It's helping us win. We stress these two things before everything else. We feel offense and hustle will fall in line," Coach Genin stated.

The turning point of the contest, which was tied 17-17 at halftime, was the adjustment of the Rockchaw defense from a zone to a man-to-man.

"d'Iberville is a good outside shooting team. They hurt our zone and forced us into a man-to-man, which shut them down," Coach Genin said.

Assistant Coach Jerry Spell added, "The key to the game was the defense. d'Iberville hit the first five outside shots that they took in the game, so we had to play man-to-man. We clogged up the middle pretty good, and we didn't allow them to set up their offense. The majority of their points after our adjustment had to come from free throws and fast breaks."

Steve Montagnet led the Rocks with 19 points, while John Kellar added 13 points and 10 rebounds.

"Montagnet is playing solid, consistent basketball. He is rebounding and shooting well, and is playing good defense," said coach Genin. "I also want to credit YaSin Shabazz and Louis Schuff who carried us through a lot of close games in December because of their outside shooting and making a lot of pressure free throws."

John Gross, John Kellar, Carter Stewart and Josh Bowles have all been doing a good job when they're in the game. Our overall team play has been much more consistent than it was at the start of the season. The next 2½ weeks are critical for us, as we face our district competitors Hancock North Central and George County," Coach Genin concluded.

Friday night the Rockchaws return to action to play the winner of the Bay High-Picayune game in the Picayune Tournament. Tipoff is set for 8:30 p.m.

USM offers karate courses

HATTIESBURG—Interested individuals may learn to defend themselves by enrolling in self-defense courses offered by the University of Southern Mississippi Division of Lifelong Learning.

The classes will introduce participants to the self-defense techniques of American Kenpo Karate and Jiu-Jitsu. All of the training will be conducted with complete safety in an informal atmosphere.

Dr. Len Brassard, founder and president of the American Kenpo Karate Association, will teach students the basics of martial arts and will show them how to defend themselves from street attacks.

Both courses will meet in the Lobby of USM's McLemore Hall from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Mondays from Jan. 19 to Feb. 23.

The course designed for children ages 7 through 12 costs $25, while the course for those 13 years and older costs $31.

Following completion of the courses, a non-mandatory Yellow Belt test will be given for interested participants who successfully complete the requirements. The cost of this test is not included in the registration fee.

For more information, call USM's Division of Lifelong Learning at (601) 266-4201, or write Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5056.

PRM adds "Weekend Edition" on Sunday mornings

Public Radio in Mississippi (PRM) will begin broadcasting a special Sunday morning version of "Weekend Edition," premiering Jan. 18, from 8 to 10 a.m.

Hosted by Susan Stamberg, award-winning anchor of Public Radio's "All Things Considered" for fourteen years, Sunday's "Weekend Edition" will focus on topics related to typical Sunday morning activities and interests.

Cook your breakfast to us, go about your Sunday routine...we'll spend the morning with you.

PRM's Micrologus, usually heard at 9 a.m. on Sunday, will move to the 6 a.m. time slot, and "St. Paul Sunday Morning" will be broadcast at 10 a.m., immediately following "Weekend Edition."

ETV Brief

ILLITERACY
Secretary of State Dick Melpus will appear on "Access" at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 18, on Mississippi ETV.

His discussion with Jack Schweitzer, host of the "Access" series, will revolve primarily around the subject of education in Mississippi.

They will talk about the problem of illiteracy in the state and how it may be solved, as well as future funding for education and how compulsory attendance rules will affect the state's literacy level.

CAIRE

What is more appealing on a chilly winter's day than the aroma of a huge pot of stew simmering on the stove, appetizingly redolent of onions and garlic and herbs and spices and wine and such?

Every country, every cuisine has its version, probably the oldest form of cooking. There are, of course, as many variations as there are cooks and nations in the world, from the largest to the smallest countries.

The Irishman must have potatoes in his stewpot, the Belgian, his beer in the famed "Carnonnade." The cooks of France's countryside dote upon their Beef Bourguignon, heavily accented with the robust burgundy wine of the region.

The Italians add pasta; the Scots, their barley. And the Mexicans - well, the Mexican's Puchero is an almost unbelievable and unbelievably good combination of various meats and vegetables and beans and so forth, often with the extra touch of guacamole spooned over as a sauce.

And let's not forget the Spanish stews with their olive oil heartiness, and so on and so on, all of them good, in every country and region!

And another nice thing about stew—there's no weller of pots and pans in the kitchen to clean up, just one big pot into which you toss whatever you like, after browning the meat or whatever, of course, and simmer it all together with only an occasional look at it all as it cooks.

And, if you're feeling especially lazy, you may even use frozen or canned vegetables, though I prefer the fresh. You may, of course, cook it in the oven, but that's not as much fun and simmering and tasting on a gray or rainy day - or sunny, as well, for that matter.

Crock pots are also useful in making stew, of course, but I'll stick to my big old iron pot - the stew doesn't stick to it, just simmers away.

My favorite stew is:
BEEF BOURGUIGNONNE
(Burgundy Beef)
3 lbs. beef chuck or round, cut into generous bite-size pieces
Sugar for sprinkling meat (optional)
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine, same of bacon drippings
1 dozen small, peeled white onions (or other onions, coarsely cut)
1 carrot, coarsely chopped or sliced
Pinches of thyme and marjoram
Dashes of Worcestershire sauce, hot pepper sauce, pepper, salt
2 Tbsp. flour
1 garlic clove, minced
Bayleaf
2 cups burgundy wine
1 cup beef broth or stock (or dissolve bouillon cube in water and use)
1 cup or more sliced fresh mushrooms

Brown the sugar-sprinkled beef cubes in the combination of butter and drippings (or oil, if drippings are not on hand) to give rich, dark look. (Omit the sugar if you prefer, add the flour, then the onions and carrots along with the other seasonings, stirring well together, then pour the wine or broth over all.

Cover, and simmer at low heat for at least three hours, testing and tasting from time to time. Add the mushrooms toward the end of the cooking time, and continue to simmer until the meat is fork-tender.

Serve along with French bread for "mopping up" the delicious sauce, or serve with noodles or rice, or even in a casserole, with extra sauce on the side, accompanied by whole new potatoes sauteed in butter and parsley - and it's even tastier the next day, if there's any leftover.

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club

MARDIGRAS GALA

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club is sponsoring its 13th Mystic Carnival Ball on Saturday, Jan. 17. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., tableau is at 8:15 p.m. and breakfast at 11:30 p.m.

Music will be by the Jokers. Attendance is by reservations, open to all yacht club members and guests.

Diamondhead Art Association

The January meeting of the Diamondhead Art Association was well attended at the Community Center in Diamondhead, with twenty three artists.

The highlight of the afternoon was a demonstration by Jeanne (Coilla) Longnecker of her upcoming limited edition of the Diamondhead Mardi Gras 1987 poster. The design and color look like a very exciting winner.

Coral Strasburger presented a beautiful oil of a Louisiana plantation; Nell Ducomb showed her talent with a series of black swans in watercolor; Carol Bustetter did an oriental acrylic design; Gladys Haas displayed both her knitting and a black-eyed susan watercolor.

Willie Solomon showed her adorable smoked dresses and explained different stitches; Anne Withington, portrait artist, displayed an old of an Indian Mother; Mr. H.R. Thompson shared his hobby of carved wooden ducks; Theo Reshew explained his studies in charcoal and pastels; Phyllis Yates received many favorable comments on her miniatures in oil.

Luis F. Cardova showed his Helen, Georgia photographs and explained rare techniques; Ida Tolbert brought her oil of African elephants that was very dramatic; Dixie Ogden brought the Mississippi quilt she recently won to be photographed by Luis Cardova.

Pat Garcia showed her lovely floral oil on silk paper; Sandie Smith, our well-known local artist, brought a beautiful tri-position portrait; Charlotte Reshew displayed her still life in oil; Dorothy Booth brought an acrylic of the Yacht Club scene to be critiqued.

Other guests were Bernice Angrain, Elaine Stromeyer, Kathy Fernandez, Evelyn Kibler, Fran Abell, and Lance Lacour.

Plans are being discussed for an outdoor watercolor workshop in the Atrium in May, and Charlotte Reshew will have children's workshops on Saturdays.

Next meeting is open to any artists in any media—are you a poet, a painter, a carver, a musician? Come and enjoy part of an afternoon with us - next meeting Monday, February 2 at 1 p.m. in the Diamondhead Community Center.

Women's Auxiliary Hancock Medical Center

Women's Auxiliary of The Hancock Medical Center met Thursday, Jan. 8. Cora Coe lead the members in the saying of the Lord's Prayer. Secretary Ursula Favre read the minutes of the December meeting. Mary Benjamin read the treasurer's report in Selma George's absence.

The executive board will review the new bylaws Tuesday so the passage may be considered at the next meeting of the auxiliary.

Two new chairmen were selected; Betty Kleitz for entertainment and Grace Hunter for fund raising.

Phil Wolfe, hospital administrator, shared his thoughts about progress toward the opening of the new center. He encouraged the members to tour the hospital to become better acquainted with the location of the facilities.

Several policies are being considered by the hospital board concerning smoking in the new hospital, improving our public image, visitor hours and new equipment to be purchased in the near future.

Five new members were welcomed to our roster, Inez Olivier, Patsy Wilson, Vicky Levy, Estelle Johnson and Betty Velasco.

This extended meeting was adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The general meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club was held at 2 p.m., on Thursday, Jan. 8 at the Garden Center, 114 Leonard Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

The meeting was called to order by President Mrs. Norman Coward. Mrs. David Calzo gave the devotion followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mrs. David Los Calzo spoke on what to plant in your garden in January. Mrs. Kenneth McKenna spoke on the Church Will's Widow which feeds at night on moths and other flying insects and sings at first light for 30 to 40 minutes and at dusk.

The Garden of the Month Award was given to Mrs. Jerry Gex, Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis, and Dr. Bruno Mancuso, 407 Waveland Ave., Waveland. The Commercial Beautification Award was given to Burger King, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Floral arrangements were placed in the Bay St. Louis Library by Mrs. Fred Bookhardt and in the Waveland Library by Mrs. David Los Calzo.

The Program Chairman Mrs. Thomas Thompson introduced Mrs. Regina Klotzer, a member of the Rose Society, Gulfport Garden Club, and Flower Show Judge to the membership. She presented a program on "The Ins and Outs of Growing Roses." She brought a variety of roses that she had grown and spoke on each. She also spoke on preparing a rose bed and planting and maintaining roses.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. David Los Calzo, Mrs. George Boud, Mrs. C.W. Harris, Mrs. Kenneth McKenna, Mrs. Horatio Weston, Mrs. Pat Connelley, Mrs. Richard Falley, Mrs. Matt Hunter, Mrs. William Ose, and Mrs. S.E. Anderson.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

TOPS No. 213 Pass Christian met Jan. 6. Top loser for the week was Liz Hanson. Debbie Cumberland, the Club's first KIW, received a charm for achieving her goals.

Kathy Etterle received a charm for losing 6 weeks in a row. Jo Ann Cuevas received charms for reaching 1/2 to goal status, losing 20 pounds and for losing 6 weeks in a row. Jo Ann Cuevas was the best loser for the month of December. Total loss for club for the week was 28 1/4 pounds.

Weigh-ins are between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. The meeting is every Tuesday at the Pass Christian Library on Hiern Avenue between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in weight control is welcome to visit. For more information, call Jeannie Livings at 452-9706 or Lois Van Dyke at 467-5162.

Hancock Women's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Hancock Women's Club was held at the Waveland Library on Thursday, Jan. 8 with Julia Loup, vice-president, presiding. There were 25 members in attendance.

A large amount of used but serviceable clothing was collected at the meeting for donation to Goodwill.

The Nominating Committee presented a slate of officers for the next year, to be voted on at the February meeting.

The membership voted to donate $100 to the Salvation Army and $200 to the Mississippi Sheriff's Boys' and Girls' Ranches.

After the business meeting refreshments were served and a very interesting talk and slide show was given by Lee Taylor, County Agent, on spring gardening, following by a question and answer period.

The door prize was won by Nathalie Miller.

Card day will be at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 22 at the home of Ruth Gallagher, 332 Terrace St., Waveland.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Julia Loup, 620 Central Ave., Waveland. This year's Board members will provide lunch to attendees prior to the meeting. Members and guests are asked to take canned food and staples to this meeting for donation to the Hancock County Food Pantry.

"IN MEMORY OF..." a Dance in America special celebrating the choreography of Jerome Robbins will air on Great Performances Friday, Jan. 16, 9-10 p.m. on public television. Seen performing in the ballet choreographed by Robbins for the New York City Ballet in 1985, are Adam Luders and Suzanne Farrell. The program is produced and presented on public television by WNET/New York.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1987-1B

Tiger Soccer wins one, loses one

The Bay High Tiger Soccer team lost to the undefeated Ocean Springs Greyhounds in a 6-4 match Friday night at Tiger Stadium.

Scoring for the Tigers were Mike Grisham, Johnathan Clark, who scored on a penalty kick, and Shane Kowalski, who scored once on a penalty kick and once with an assist from Joel Duncan.

Coach Edwards commended the team on improved play, noting that last year the Greyhounds defeated the Tigers, 14-0.

Team captains for the game were Scott Krankey and Bill Wheeler.

Fans William McGlothlin won a pizza donated by Pizza Hut, while Harriet Bellone and Gibson Carter each won a Tiger Soccer sweatshirt awarded by the Tiger Soccer Booster Club.

On Monday, Jan. 5, Bay High bested the Hattiesburg Tigers 2-1. Scott Demboski and Shane Kowalski, with an assist from Stephen Barnes, scored for Bay High, while a goal by Dino Bkahta was disallowed.

The Junior Varsity won 1-0 in Hattiesburg on a penalty kick by Sean Foreman, and lost Friday to Ocean Springs, 9-6.

The Tigers are scheduled to play Long Beach Bearcats Friday, Jan. 16 at Tiger Stadium. Junior Varsity will begin play at 5:30 p.m. and Varsity at 7 p.m.

Steve Barnes and Craig Adam are captains for Friday's match.

The public may attend free of charge and register for a soccer ball donated by Bay Area Youth Soccer to be given at halftime of the varsity match.

Ducks Unlimited receiving art competition entries

Mississippi Ducks Unlimited announces its sixth annual Artist of the Year competition.

Past recipients of this honor are John Reimbers of Jackson, Shade Steele of Alligator, Jerrie Glasper of Greenville, Joe Latil of Ocean Springs, and Jim Hardin of Hernando.

Approximately 135 prints of the winning original will be distributed to DU committees throughout Mississippi. In addition to a cash prize, the winning artist will be awarded 25 artist proofs.

The judging to select this year's winner will be held Feb. 27 in Natchez. This is in conjunction with the annual Ducks Unlimited State Convention.

Interested artists may obtain a copy of the contest rules by contacting Rodney Garrison, 233 Westover Dr., Clarksdale, MS 38614 (601-622-7618).

Delisle native ready to play in Super Bowl

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Delisle native and former Pass Christian High School football star Gene Lang will play in his first Super Bowl Jan. 25 when the Denver Broncos take on the New York Giants.

Playing in the Super Bowl is the chance of a lifetime, according to Lang, a starting running back for the Broncos.

"I've always loved football and have dreamed of playing in the Super Bowl, now that dream is coming true," Lang said in a telephone interview from his Denver residence.

"I knew the Broncos could make it but we just had to have the breaks to get this far," Lang added.

According to Lang the Broncos got to take off a couple of days this week after winning the Super Bowl berth with a 23-20 win over the Cleveland Browns in overtime.

"It has been like a zoo around here with everyone calling to congratulate me," he said Monday morning.

However just talking to all the family members would take a lot of time for Lang who is one of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Lang Sr. who live in Delisle.

Lang's parents expect to be among the cheering crowd in Pasadena, Calif. for Super Bowl XXI.

"We are very happy for Gene and we knew that he could do it," said Mrs. Lang.

His brother Harold Lang of Delisle said it was no big surprise.

"It is really nice to see him go to the Super Bowl, I always knew he was capable," Harold Lang said.

Also proud of Lang's upcoming appearance in the Super Bowl is his wife, the former Deryl Isidore of New Orleans.

"Injuries had stifled Gene's play early in the season but he got back in top condition just the right time to do his part in getting the team in the playoffs," Mrs. Lang said.

Mrs. Lang is also proud that Gene accomplished his starting position in just two years after being drafted in the 11th round.

"For the 1985-86 season, Gene was the second leading rusher and scorer for the Broncos," Mrs. Lang said.

Prior to professional football, Lang played for Louisiana State University where he was included on the Southeastern Conference Academic Scholarship List.

Lang credits former Pass Christian High School Coach Bob Lumkin with his scholarship to LSU.

"Coach Lumkin really helped me out by going out and getting the colleges to come and scout me at the Pirate games," he said.

Pass Christian High School recently retired jersey No. 25 in honor of Lang who wore that number both in high school and college.

Following their two days off this week, the Broncos began practice for the Super Bowl in Denver and will leave Sunday for Pasadena.

Lang says he is in top shape for the Super Bowl game.

"I got a little banged up on the kickoff in the Cleveland game but it was nothing lasting," he added.

Raider teams split twin bill in N.O.

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders boys and girls basketball teams took on Marrero Christian Academy last Friday night with the girls team coming out a winner 48-19 and the boys losing 56-34.

The boys contest was close during the first half with Marrero holding a 6-point lead at half time 30-24.

In the second half, Marrero's ability to convert their outside shots, finally opened up the lanes to the basket through the Raiders' zone defense.

Keith Ott was Raider high scorer with 14 points and Brandon Smith contributed 10 points in the losing cause.

In the girls' game, the Lady Raiders played an aggressive half court zone press to win their third game going away 48-19.

Katherine Smith controlled the boards and contributed 12 points in a stellar performance.

Eighth grader Melissa Catron was on the receiving end of numerous outlet passes for fast break lay-ups, ending the game as high scorer with 15 points.

Leah Salsbury's aggressive defense, ball control and 8 points was the key to the win. Margaret Murdock scored 7 points and Sharon Orlin finished with 2 points.

Coach Calvin Smith was able to let the first string rest and give valuable playing time to every team member.

The next game for the Raiders is Monday night against Bible Baptist of Gulfport. The game will be played at the Long Beach Junior High Gymnasium on Cleveland Ave. Tip off time for the girls is 5:30 p.m. and for the boys 7 p.m.

Running expert to host free pre-race clinic

Running expert Jeff Galloway will kick off the first of Touro Infirmary's 12 Crescent City Classic Pre-Race Clinics Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Touro School of Nursing auditorium, 3450 Chestnut.

His talk on the benefits of a fitness program will be followed by a practice run and is free and open to the public.

Galloway, one of the pioneers in the running movement, is author of the best-selling book, "Galloway's Book on Running." A member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic team, he has represented the U.S. in Europe, Africa and Russia and in 1973 broke the U.S. 10-mile record (47:49).

As co-founder of the Avon International Women's Marathon, Galloway promoted the cause which has given women their own Olympic marathon. He has served as an organizer and consultant for races throughout the country and was involved with the first four Crescent City Classic races as announcer and coordinator of invited athletes.

Galloway is also the founder and director of a series of summer fitness vacations and of Phidippides, a national chain of running and aerobic specialty retail stores. He is a regular contributor to several running magazines and writes articles for many other fitness publications.

Touro's 11 other Crescent City Classic Pre-Race Clinics will cover such subjects as stretching, running shoes, avoiding and treating injuries, motivation, nutrition and running the race.

Each will also include a practice run and is free and open to the public. Limited free parking will be available in the Touro parking lot on Aline Street, directly across from the School of Nursing.

"All good ideas have already been thought; the point is to try to think them again."

Father and son lead South Squad in Senior Bowl '87

MOBILE, Ala.—Miami Dolphins Head Coach Don Shula has accepted an invitation to coach his son Mike in Senior Bowl '87, according to Executive Director Eric Tillman.

Shula will replace Kansas City Coach John Mackovic, who was released by the Chiefs late Thursday evening.

Los Angeles Rams Coach John Robinson, who had been scheduled to head the South Squad, will now be assuming the same responsibility with the North.

"The Shula connection is a natural for us, and will obviously draw great national attention to the Senior Bowl," said Tillman. "I regret that this is a result of John's misfortune. He is a first-class gentleman, and all of us associated with the game wish him nothing but the best."

David Shula, son of Don and assistant coach of the Dolphins, was a participant in Senior Bowl '81, representing Dartmouth University.

"This is an unexpected pleasure," said Shula. "Obviously, our staff had planned on being at the Senior Bowl all week to take a look at the talent. But now we'll have the opportunity to work with some of the top college prospects. It's a new and unique experience for me to be coaching Mike. With Dave already being on our staff, it'll be a very special time for our family. I've always had great respect for the Senior Bowl committee, and we're just happy to help them out in an emergency situation."

Shula has assured his place among the giants of the National Football League by being the only coach to reach the Super Bowl three consecutive years, the youngest coach to win 100 games and the only coach to make six appearances in the Super Bowl.

His career winning percentage of .707 is the best among the NFL's all time top-10 winners and his career win total (263-107-6) is second only to the immortal George Halas (325-151-31) in Chicago.

His "ultimate" achievement was the NFL's first unbeaten, untied record of 17-0 in 1972. His incredible two-year record of 32-2, including Super Bowl conquests in 1972 and 1973, probably will never be surpassed.

The Dolphins have either won or shared first place the Eastern division 13 times in the 17 years Shula has coached Miami.

Senior Bowl '87 is Saturday with kickoff scheduled for noon. Tickets are available at all First Southern Federal locations, the Mobile Municipal Auditorium, the Mississippi Coast Coliseum, Sears in Pensacola and at the ticket booths at Bel Air Mall and the Riverview Plaza.

Workshop to eye youth sports liability

Liability in youth sports programs is a concern of most park and recreation professionals.

Even if one can afford to purchase liability insurance for youth sports programs, it may not be available in the area.

The Mississippi Recreation and Park Association and the National Youth Sports Coaches Association have teamed up to assist agencies in Mississippi to confront the liability exposure.

Youth sports program can benefit from a coaches training program that teaches psychology of coaching, youth sports, injury prevention, first aid, and legal issues and liability.

For qualified programs, NYSAC offers a $300,000 liability insurance policy for certified individuals.

MRPA and NYSAC will sponsor a clinicians training workshop designed to train "key" people in your area to conduct coaches certification workshops.

The Mississippi Recreation and Park Association feels that it is important to improve the quality of youth sports programs and to provide agencies with one potential solution to the concern for liability.

State parks entry permits now available

Annual entrance permits to all the Mississippi state parks are now available. The $10 permit, available to Mississippi residents only, is valid for the calendar year.

The decal will allow unlimited visits for the automobile and its passengers to all state parks in Mississippi during 1987.

Entrance fees to state parks went into effect July 1, 1986. The current fee is $1 per car and 25 cents per person over four people.

Aubrey Rozzell, director of the Bureau of Recreation and Parks, said the $10 annual permit fee was established to accommodate local residents and frequent visitors to the state parks. "For anyone who visits the parks on a regular basis, the $10 annual fee is a real bargain," Rozzell said.

For further information regarding Mississippi state parks write Parks, Box 28305, Jackson, MS 39209 or call 961-5014.

PARKER DEEN, GINGER GILMORE, LIZETTE GILES, MARGARET MURDOCK

Coast Episcopal High's Who's Who students named

Coast Episcopal High School has announced the selection of four seniors as 1986-87 members of "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Selected are Parker Deen, Lizette Giles, Ginger Gilmore and Margaret Murdock.

Deen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inmond Deen of Pass Christian, is a member of Mu Alpha Theta and vice president of the National Honor Society. She is Senior Class treasurer and Raider cheerleader.

Giles is the daughter of Mrs. Helene Giles of Pass Christian and Dr. Thomas B. Giles of New Orleans. She is editor of the school yearbook, the Pidgeon Hole, and also editor of Coast Quarterly, the school literary magazine.

Giles is secretary-treasurer of the National Honor Society and a member of Mu Alpha Theta.

Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gilmore of Bay St. Louis, is president of the CEHS Student Council and captain of the Raider cheerleaders.

She is a member of the National Honor Society and yearbook staff. Murdock is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Murdock of Gulfport.

She is business manager of the school yearbook and editor of the school literary magazine.

She is president of the National Honor Society, and a member of Mu Alpha Theta. She was selected as a Governor's Scholar for 1986.

"Who's Who Among American High School Students" has funded over $100,000 to qualified students through various scholarship programs.

For over 21 years, "Who's Who" has communicated with over 30,000 institutions to identify and select candidates for recognition in a very competitive program with only five percent of our nation's high school students honored each year.

Medical, dental test review dates listed

HATTIESBURG—Review dates for the Medical College Admissions Test and the Dental Admissions Test have been announced by the University of Southern Mississippi.

Individuals planning to enter a professional school following graduation from USM may benefit from the workshop to be held at USM on Jan. 24 for biology I, Jan. 31 for biology II, Feb. 7 for inorganic chemistry, Feb. 14 for physics, Feb. 21 for quantitative skills and math, and Feb. 28 for organic chemistry.

All sessions will be held on the USM campus in the Technology Building, Room 112. Class times will be from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. and the courses will be $100. Registration fees after Jan. 14 will be $15.

For more information, contact the USM Division of Lifelong Learning by calling 266-4201.

CEHS names Senior of the Month

Coast Episcopal High School has announced the selection of Parker Deen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inmond Deen of Pass Christian, as the Senior of the Month for January.

Deen has attended Coast Episcopal Schools since 1975, when she entered the kindergarten. She has won many academic honors over the years at Coast.

She is a member of Who's Who Among American High School Students, Mu Alpha Theta, and the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. She is vice president of the National Honor Society and has served as treasurer for the past six years. Deen is a Raider cheerleader and was maid on the 1986 CEHS Homecoming Court. She is section editor for the school yearbook, The Pidgeon Hole, and a staff member of the Coast Quarterly, the school literary magazine.

She serves as an acolyte at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian and is a member of the Princess Shoppe award-winning Teen Board.

Deen's hobbies include dancing, both ballet and jazz, drawing, and playing the piano. She plans to attend college in the fall, but is undecided on a major.

Deaf students can now get college education in Mississippi

A landmark program for deaf and hearing impaired students has been established by the Hinds Junior College District and the Mississippi Department of Rehabilitation Services, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

The hearing impaired program, located on the Raymond Campus, is the first of its kind in Mississippi and it makes Hinds the only postsecondary educational setting which offers hearing impaired students an opportunity for a college education with a full line of support services to meet their needs.

"The establishment of this program is the most significant single event for postsecondary education of the hearing impaired in the history of Mississippi," states Gary Neely, Vocational Rehabilitation Services state coordinator of communicative disorders.

Hinds has further applied to become an affiliate of the Postsecondary Educational Consortium (PEC) which is an organization of five postsecondary schools in the Southeast United States offering such programs for hearing impaired students. Until the new program at Hinds, no comprehensive programs were available to hearing impaired students within a four-state area which includes Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Alabama.

Prior to the program at Hinds, hearing impaired students have had to compete with hearing students with only minimal accommodations for their handicap. The other option for the hearing impaired student was to travel to another state for postsecondary training.

According to John Cook, Commissioner of the State Department of Rehabilitation Services, the out-of-state school option is costly and inconvenient.

The agreement between the Hinds Junior College District and the Department of Rehabilitation Services allows for the funding of two full time interpreters, making the Raymond Campus barrier-free (including dormitories) for hearing impaired students, provisions for note takers and tutors and the hiring of four part-time interpreters.

Hinds will offer the program on a state-wide basis.

St. Stanislaus to present college financial aid workshop

St. Stanislaus High School will host "Open Classroom" Sunday, Jan. 25 to give parents a chance to talk to the teachers following first semester exams.

In conjunction with this Open Classroom the parents of juniors and seniors are invited to attend a financial aid workshop on college expenses in the school's audio visual room at 1:30 p.m. The program will be repeated at 2:30 p.m.

Presenter will be Vernetta Fairley, a college director of financial aid with 16 years experience.

This workshop is open to all parents and seniors in the area regardless of high school affiliation. Parents of seventh and eighth grade students are invited to a seminar to explain the standardized test results of the SRA multilevel achievement series which was taken by the students in October. Brother Paul Montero will be the presenter for this seminar, which will take place at 4 p.m. in the audio visual room.

A similar program for freshmen and sophomore parents will take place at 4 p.m. in JRoom 227 at St. Stanislaus. This program will cover an explanation of the results of the NEDT. Presenter is James Thrifley.

Additional information regarding these three programs may be obtained by contacting Thrifley at St. Stanislaus, 467-9057.

State allocates over $2 million in Exxon overcharge money for UM energy projects

Mississippi's Department of Energy and Transportation has allotted $1.3 million to The University of Mississippi's Oxford campus and $950,000 to the University Medical Center from the state's share of Exxon Corporation overcharge funds. The money will be used to upgrade existing utility systems, which should result in thousands of dollars in yearly energy-cost savings.

According to Paul Hale, acting director of the Ole Miss physical plant, the $1.3 million will be used to complete the first two phases of the university's 13-phase plan for completely upgrading its antiquated and inadequate heating and cooling system on the Oxford campus and should save some $350,000 in yearly energy costs. The $950,000 for the Medical Center campus will be used for a variety of energy conservation projects.

The first phase replaces the 50-year-old boiler plant with a new power plant that is 80-85 percent energy efficient, Hale said.

Phase Two involves completion of two chill water sections of a loop that will eventually cool all major campus buildings.

The Exxon funds are provided on a 50-50 match basis. Both campuses used funds allocated by the Mississippi Legislature and dispersed through the State Bureau of Building, Grounds and Real Property Management for their matching funds.

The allocations were approved by the Mississippi Energy and Transportation Board and were announced by John W. Green Jr., director of the Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation, in conjunction with the Office of the governor.

The Exxon funds resulted from a court decision in which the corporation was ordered to repay $2.1 billion in overcharges to refiners, airlines and consumers. To serve consumers, payment was made to states for projects that would benefit their citizens. The allocations to both campuses came from $10 million in Exxon funds administered by the Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation.

MUW enrollment tops 2,000 mark

COLUMBUS—Fall enrollment at Mississippi University for Women has topped the 2,000 mark, according to figures released by the Registrar's Office.

By the end of late registration, enrollment stood at 2,004. Last fall, 2,039 students were enrolled.

"The tremendous amount of adverse publicity that came out of the College Board's recommendation last spring to the Mississippi Legislature concerning the future of the University gave us an indication that enrollment for the current academic year would be down. We realized then that special emphasis would have to be placed on our recruitment program," said Dr. Joseph A. Portera, assistant to the president.

Business and civic leaders from Columbus and surrounding areas volunteered to assist the University in attracting more students by participating in recruitment phonations this spring and summer. "Stabilizing MUW's enrollment at the 2,000 mark is the direct result of the concerted efforts of a great many people," Portera stressed. "Recruitment efforts at MUW were greatly supplemented by business and civic leaders who actually came to campus and personally called prospective students."

Portera said this "extra-special" recruitment work enhanced the "dedicated recruitment efforts of alumnae, faculty, staff and current students."

IT'S JUST A LITTLE HEADACHE... OR IS IT?

Do you have occasional headaches? They may be from simple eye strain, stale air, smog, or over-eating. However, millions of Americans suffer from recurring headaches... the kind of headaches that strike hard and keep coming back. Severe throbbing pain can envelope one side of the head and spread to the entire head as a migraine headache develops. Migraines can be accompanied by irritability, nausea, and sensitivity to bright light. Some migraine sufferers have also experienced throbbing in the neck and face. Migraines can affect not only your health, but your personality and lifestyle as well. If you've been experiencing recurring or frequent headaches, call or come by for a consultation. Chiropractic has helped millions of headache sufferers. Don't suffer needlessly! CALL TODAY. Find out if chiropractic can help you.

WHO PAYS FOR DOUBLE COUPONS?

YOU DO!

Manufacturers only pay the coupon's face value. YOU pay the rest in the form of higher food prices.
(Of course, we still honor manufacturers' coupons...
The manufacturers pay for that. Not You.)

WHO PAYS FOR WEEKLY SPECIALS?

YOU DO!

For every low price "Weekly Special" listed in this paper, there's a much longer list of prices they had to keep high to pay for them.
(Weekly Specials go back up the next week, sometimes sooner.)

YOU CAN SAVE ON EVERY ITEM EVERY DAY AT DELCHAMPS BECAUSE YOU DON'T PAY FOR SPECIALS OR DOUBLE COUPONS.

EVERYDAY MINIMUM PRICING
ABSOLUTELY LOWER PRICING!

Delchamps Super Stores

The proof is in the pricing on every item every day.
We're going to change your mind about how to save on food.
24 hours every day.

WIN UP TO $1,000
WHEN YOU PLAY ...

COUPONS & CASH BINGO™

OVER
$9 MILLION
IN CASH AND VALUABLE COUPONS

Now Bingo is more fun and more rewarding!

You may win up to $1,000 in cash while you collect money saving coupons in every game ticket. So, shop often and save more at WINN-DIXIE... America's Supermarket.

*You will receive valuable money saving coupons from some of America's leading manufactures.

Playing is simple... just tear away the front portion of your game ticket to reveal the Bingo playing markers or money saving coupon.
